Welcome to The University of the District of Columbia

Initially founded in 1851, the University of the District of Columbia has a rich history. Chartered in 1974, the University of the District of Columbia is the only fully-accredited public institution of higher education in the nation's capital. As an urban land-grant university, it supports a broad mission of education, research and community service and offers bachelors and masters degrees in the College of Arts and Science; School of Business and Public Administration; School of Engineering and Applied Sciences; and College of Agriculture, Urban Sustainability and Environmental Studies. Also included in the university system is the David A. Clarke School of Law. In August 2009, UDC inaugurated a new, stand-alone Community College which offers more than 20 associate degree and certificate programs as well as over 25 Workforce Development programs to prepare students for successful careers and academic advancement.

As the District's alma mater, UDC attracts students of every age from the Washington, DC region, the nation and the world—providing innovative, results-driven programs that enrich our city with educated, qualified students, ready to work and contribute to its overall prosperity and quality of life. More than 25 nations are represented in the student body. UDC extends beyond its campus footprint, offering easy access to world-famous monuments, political intrigue and cultural attractions everywhere you look. An education here opens doors to opportunities that can only be found in the nation's capital.

Athletic Trainer's Information

Dear Visiting Trainer,

On behalf of the University of the District of Columbia we would like to welcome you and your team to the campus of UDC, home of the Firebirds. If you have any special requests, do not hesitate to contact the Head Athletic Trainer, Khalfani Sullivan.

UDC's athletic training facility is located in building 47. The training room will be open to participating athletes two hours before a scheduled contest. A Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) will be on site for every home varsity contest.

- Visiting teams should bring their own training supplies. None will be provided.
- Ice is available.
- A table is set up in the athletic training room for taping.
- Towels are not provided for the visiting team.

Sports Information

Media Information

The Sports Information Office serves as the primary contact for the media to obtain information about the athletic program at the University of the District of Columbia. The Office provides news releases, final game statistics, schedules, media guides and other printed resource materials in support of the Athletic program. The Sports Information Office also maintains the University's Official Athletic Web Site, and can be reached by telephone at (202) 274-6796, by FAX at (202) 274-5065, and by E-mail (mrienzo@udc.edu).

Media Credentials

Requests for credentials should be made to the Sports Information Office at (202) 274-5064 at least 24 hours prior to each game. Credentials may be picked up prior to game day at the UDC Sports Information Office in the Sports Complex (bldg. 47), B-level, or at the ticket window immediately before the start of a game.

Media Parking

A limited number of parking passes are available. Due to limited parking on campus, a pass does not guarantee a parking space, but every effort will be made to accommodate the media.

Interview Policy

Coaches and athletes are available for interviews. Please contact the Sports Information Office to schedule all interviews at least 24 hours in advance so that a mutually agreeable time can be arranged.

Official Athletics Site for University of the District of Columbia Firebirds

Game stories, schedules, results and other athletic related matters can be accessed through the official athletic site of the University of the District of Columbia, www.udcfirebirds.com, or the University's web site at www.udc.edu (click on the athletic link).
